Installation

- Gently bend the soft top backwards, then slide your phone into the case as shown in image #1 below.
- Slide the phone in all the way, making sure it is securely seated over the lightning charging port, then pull the soft part back over your phone to secure it in place.
- Removing: Peel back the soft top, then use your thumbs, or the palm of your hand to push the screen upward to SLIDE the phone off the case.

ATTENTION!

When installing or removing your phone, DO NOT REMOVE THE PHONE AT AN ANGLE, as shown in this diagram. This will damage the lightning port permanently. SLIDE your phone out as shown in diagram 1 and 4 (below), and parallel to the case.

Note: Whether charging through the battery case or by the Lightning USB cable, you will notice the charging signal appears on your iPhone screen's battery indicator. When charging is finished, the signal will disappear. Only use your iPhone's original Lightning USB cable to charge and sync your battery case with a wall charger, or with a laptop/desktop. Avoid using aftermarket and non-standard cables as they can cause damage to the battery case, your phone, and/or cause overheating or fire.

Charging your Battery Case & iPhone together by cable

- Connect your battery case (iPhone already installed) to your iPhone cable (not included).
- Connect the USB power cable to any USB power source such as a computer to start charging. The battery case is programmed to let your iPhone charge first, then the battery case will charge.
- Charge until the LED indicators indicate fully charged (all 4 LEDs are solid).

Charging your iPhone using the Battery Case

- Press and hold the power button for about 3 seconds to turn on the battery case and start charging your iPhone.
- Press and hold the power button for 3 seconds again to deactivate the battery case and stop charging. This can significantly save more battery power to charge the iPhone next time.

Charging your Battery Case & iPhone together wirelessly

Because your shiny new iPhone comes with wireless charging, we thought it's only fitting that the case we design for it has the same capability. It's simple to use.

- Place your battery case (iPhone already installed) on a Qi wireless charging pad (not included). The battery case is programmed to let your iPhone charge first, then the battery case will charge.
- Align the wireless charging logo on your battery case with the charging logo on your wireless charging pad.

Note:

- For best results, use the Alpatronix Qi wireless charger. However, this product should work with any Qi-Certified wireless charging pad.

You can purchase a wireless charging pad from any of the below locations:

- Search Amazon.com for "Alpatronix CX101, CX102, or CX200"
- Search Alpatronix.com for "Alpatronix CX101, CX102, or CX200"
- If the wireless charging logo on the case and charging pad are not aligned properly, it is possible that the charging speed will be lower than optimum, or that there is no charging at all. If you experience problems with wireless charging, simply re-align the case and the charging pad. If the problem continues, contact Alpatronix for troubleshooting.
